INDEX TO THE HUNTINGTON LIBRARY QUARTERLY

VOLUME X, 1946-47

American Utopia of the sixteenth century, 337-47
Art, recent acquisitions, 105-18
Ashley, Robert, Elizabethan man of letters, 349-63

Baker, C. H. Collins, recent acquisitions in art, 105-18; Sir James Thornhill as Bible illustrator, 323-27
Bible illustrations, 323-27
Blake, William, designs for The Grave, 111-15, 429; portrait, 115-18
Braun, Carl F., 225

Catlin, Senator A. P., 225
Charles I, sermons, 135-67
Clary, William W., 333
Colden, Cadwallader, letter from John Mitchell, 411-17
Cole, George Watson, portrait, 429

Davies, Godfrey, conclusion of Dryden's Absalom and Achitophel, 69-82
Dee, John, as Ralegh's "conjurer," 365-72
Dorset, Lord, and George Stepney, 1-33
Dryden, John, Absalom and Achitophel, 69-82; Annus Mirabilis, 49-67

Education in America, 195-208
Evelyn, John, and the art of travel, 251-76

Founder's Day, 333
Foxe, John, and the drama New Custom, 407-10
Friends of the Huntington Library, 225-26, 333-34, 429-30

Gainsborough, "Lady with a Spaniel," 110, 226; Gainsborough's Sudbury-Ipswich period, 105-11
Galeries Historiques de Versailles, 429
Grabhorn Press imprints, 429

Heltzel, Virgil B., Robert Ashley, Elizabethan man of letters, 349-63
Hooker, Edward N., purpose of Dryden's Annus Mirabilis, 49-67
Hornberger, Theodore, letter from John Mitchell to Cadwallader Colden, 411-17; scientific ideas of John Mitchell, 277-96
Huntington Library, research, 119-24; seminars, 119

Irvine, William, Man and Superman, a step in Shavian disillusionment, 209-24

Jackson, Robert, "Memoir on the Swedish Tar Company," 419-28
Judson, Alexander C., seventeenth-century lives of Edmund Spenser, 35-48
Kimball, Fiske, 333

Kocher, Paul H., physician as atheist in Elizabethan England, 229-49
Krey, A. C., Padua in the English Renaissance, 129-34

Laws of the Town of San Francisco, 333
Los Angeles, rise, 1870-1900, 391-405

Manifest Destiny and Walt Whitman, 373-89
Maryland Records, 331-32
Mitchell, John, letter to Cadwallader Colden, 411-17; scientific ideas, 277-96

Mullett, Charles F., case of allegiance: William Sherlock and the Revolution of 1688, 83-103; some "paradoxes" of the "Glorious Revolution," 317-22
Murray, John J., Robert Jackson's "Memoir on the Swedish Tar Company," 419-28

New Custom, 407-10
North, John Wesley, papers, 328-31
Noya, Haydée, North papers, 328-31

Oliver, Leslie Mahin, John Foxe and the drama New Custom, 407-10

Padua in the English Renaissance, 129-34
Parks, George B., John Evelyn and the art of travel, 251-76
Phillips, Thomas, portrait of Blake, 115-18
Physician as atheist in Elizabethan England, 229-49

Rainfall on the Great Plains, 1844-1880, 169-93
Ralegh's "conjurer," 365-72
Randall, Helen W., rise and fall of a martyrology: sermons on Charles I, 135-67
Renaissance, English, 129-34
Revolution of 1688, 317-22; and William Sherlock, 83-103

Sander, Max, Le Livre à Figures Italien, 429
Scientific ideas of John Mitchell, 277-96
Shaw, George Bernard, Man and Superman, 209-24
Sherlock, William, and Revolution of 1688, 83-103
Smith, Henry Nash, rain follows the plow: the notion of increased rainfall for the Great Plains, 1844-1880, 169-93; Walt Whitman and Manifest Destiny, 373-89
Southern literature, 297-315
Spenser, Edmund, the seventeenth-century lives, 35-48
Stepney, George, my Lord Dorset's boy, 1-33
Strathmann, Ernest A., John Dee as Ralegh's "conjurer," 365-72
Swedenberg, H. T., Jr., George Stepney, my Lord Dorset's boy, 1-33
Swedish Tar Company, 419-28

Travel and John Evelyn, 251-76
Thomas, Seymour, portrait of George Watson Cole, 429
Thornhill, Sir James, as Bible illustrator, 323-27
Twain, Mark, 430

United Nations Charter, 429

Wecter, Dixon, education of Everyman, 1870-90, 195-208
Whitman, Walt, and Manifest Destiny, 373-89
Winther, Oscar Osburn, rise of metropolitan Los Angeles, 1870-1900, 391-405
Wright, Louis B., literature in the colonial South, 297-315

Zavala, Silvio, American Utopia of the sixteenth century, 337-47